Cue and Curtain Will Present Royall Tyler's "The Contrast" At Wardman, Friday, Saturday

University Players Produce First American Play; Patrons Named

Long weeks of arduous preparation will be terminated in brilliant fashion Friday and Saturday evenings, when Cue and Curtain presents at Wardman Park Theater its spring play, "The Contrast," by Royall Tyler, a production which bids to outrank all of the organization's previous efforts.

A brisk advance sale of tickets both in the University and in the city proper presages that full houses will witness both presentations, which are being given under the auspices of the District of Columbia Bicentennial Commission. Tickets are still on sale in the Bursar's Office, at the Wayfarer's Bookshop, Seventeenth and H Streets, and at the T. Arthur Smith Bureau, 1330 G Street.

Boasting a long and distinguished list of patrons, "The Contrast" will make its bow Friday evening at 8:30, a tribute to the tireless efforts of its director, Constance Connor Brown, lecturer on play production and director of dramatics, and its production manager, Phyllis Mills, student president of Cue and Curtain.

The accomplished cast includes many University favorites, Hazen Shea, Ruth Molyneux, Virginia Wilson, Joseph Danzansky, Frank Westbrook, Sol Orleans, Amanda Chittum, Michael Greene, Steve Nymen, Helena Cooke and Grant Van Demark. In support will be Katherine Wessels, Sylvia Salomon, Edward Steffenson, Buck Gallagher, Adele Gussack, Gladys Tapp, Betty Coon, Jane Rhodes, Edwin Bell, Edward Northrop and William Fitch.

Patrons of "The Contrast" so far heard from are: Senator and Mrs. Burton K. Wheeler, Senator and Mrs. Lester J. Dickerson, Hon. and Mrs. Sol Bloom, Hon. and Mrs. William F. Kopp, Hon. Ruth Bryan Owen, Dr. and Mrs. Cloyd H. Marvin, Col. and Mrs. Robert Vedder Fleming, Harry Cassell Davis, Julius Garfinkel, Provost and Mrs. William Allen Wilbur, Dr. and Mrs. William J. Mallory, Dr. and Mrs. Willard Hayes Yeager, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Gratton Doyle, Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Bolwell;

Brigadier Gen. and Mrs. Andrew Moses, Miss Sibyl Baker, Dr. and Mrs. George F. Bowerman, Hon. and Mrs. George Washington University.

Dagmoir Engaged For Pledge Dance

Neophyte Group Having Highest Average to Receive Scholarship Cup

Dagmoir will furnish the music for the "Depression Dance" to be staged at the Acacia House Saturday night by the Interfraternity Pledge Council, according to announcement made today by Murray Watts, social chairman of that organization. The party will be from ten till one and the tariff will be one dollar, drag or stag.

At intermission the Interfraternity Pledge Council Scholarship Cup will be awarded to the neophyte group which accomplished the highest average grade for the semester ended in February of this year.

Attention is called to the fact that the hours of the dance do not conflict with the presentation of the current Cue and Curtain production, "The Contrast," which is to be given at Wardman Park Theater on the same evening. Those students who have tickets for the dance will have ample time to attend both functions if they desire to see the play on that same night.

Authority on Mathematics

Addressee Club April 22

Professor Gilbert Anna Bliss, renowned mathematician, lectured before the George Washington University Mathematics Club, in Corcoran Hall, on Friday evening, April 22. The subject of his talk was "The Calculus of Variations and the Quantum Theory." Professor Bliss is a well known authority on mathematics. He is a member of the faculty of the University of Chicago, and also of the National Academy of Science. Professor Bliss was able to speak here, due to the fact that he was attending the Academy's annual convention, held in Washington at the time.

Miss Constance Connor Brown is University lecturer on drama and guiding light of Cue and Curtain.

Nine Are Entered For All-University Popularity Contest

Prominent University Women Compete for "Queen of Carnival"

Gate and Key announces nine aspirants for the title "Queen of the Carnival" in their popularity contest, which will be a feature of the All-University Carnival, Friday and Saturday, May 6 and 7. A cup, or some other fitting trophy, to be decided upon by the committee, will be awarded to the winner at the time of coronation.

The contestants and the campaign managers, who have been selected after much scrambling on the part of a multitude of campus swains are: Evelyn Eller, whose prestige will be abetted by C. Manley Pesler; Ruth Molyneux, to be guided and bolstered by Betty Reynolds, a Kappa sister; Marion Ziegler, in the hands of the fast-stepping Jake Olverson; Kitty Blake, sponsored by Jack Vivian, whose success as Interfraternity social chairman smacks of strength in this or any other contest; Cecile Harrington, in whose interest George Wenzl will attempt to perpetuate a Government rally; Olivia Watkins, another contestant, who will place her destinies in the hands of a sorority sister, Betty Orth; Harriet Atwell, to be ballyhooed and sung by

Teachers of History Meet Here May 6, 7

University to Act as Host; Kayser Handling Arrangements

George Washington University will be host to the Association of History Teachers of the Middle States and Maryland at their twenty-ninth annual spring meeting which convenes here May 6 and 7, in conjunction with the Round Table of the Teachers of the Social Sciences of Washington. Professor Elmer Louis Kayser, of the History Department, is chairman of the Committee on Arrangements.

Attention Directed To Calendar Rule

The Student Council of George Washington University hereby directs the attention of all concerned to the standing rule governing the social calendar under which an organization desiring to hold a function on a night already taken by another organization may do so if the permission of the organization having priority is first secured.

If in the future, this rule is broken in letter or in spirit by an organization, securing permission through misrepresentation or other means, this rule will be changed to effectively prevent such conduct.

Carnival Highlights Vie for Eminence In Gala Program

Numerous Additions Include Musical Side Shows and Peanut Vendors

A popularity contest, high class vaudeville, dancing, booth after booth of novelties, games of skill and entertainment of every sort go to make up the first University Carnival, being promoted by the Student Council for the benefit of the University Band, on Friday and Saturday nights, May 6 and 7.

A diagram printed in this issue shows in detail the plan of the carnival, indicating the layout for the booths and the various concessions. Numerous additions have been made to the list of organizations reserving booths. Zeta Tau Alphas will come down from their perch to run a lowly shoe shine establishment. The Philippines Club will go native, putting on an original musical side show.

The Alpha Delta Thetas will turn peanut vendors for the two evenings, and the Kappa Deltas will shove hot dogs over the counter, with all the onions and mustard and pickles and goo that make them go down easier!

An unusual feature will be provided by the Kappas, who will take over the dancing, turning Corcoran Hall into a regular taxi dance hall, with hostesses "n' everything! More details later! Booths announced last week include: Pi Beta Phi, candy and cigarettes; and Alpha Delta Pi, punch and other refreshments.

Baseball Tradition Revived for May 7

Honor Fraternity Challenges Faculty to Ball Game as Part of Carnival

Reviving an old tradition of long standing which has been allowed to languish for the past three years, Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary activities fraternity, has taken over the part once held by Pyramid Honor Society, and challenged members of the University faculty to a baseball game to be played on Saturday afternoon, May 7, on one of the Monument diamonds as a part of the University Carnival.

For many years the Faculty-Pyramid baseball tilt was one of the outstanding event of the spring in University life. Until 1930, student and faculty interest met on common ground with the annual game. That year, with Dr. John Albert Tillema hurling for the faculty nine, Pyramid was defeated, 7-0, ending for two years the only contest of athletic skill between a group of faculty members and a student organization.

Interesting to note at the present time is the choice of both lineups. O. D. K. includes an impressive group of faculty members noted for its interest in student activities headed by President Cloyd Heck Marvin, and comprised of Provost William Allen Wilbur, Prof. Elmer Louis Kayser, Dean Henry Gratton Doyle, and Prof. Joseph Lowell Ragatz. These men have the unique position of being able to

Plans of Nominees for Student Council Predict Rapid Advancement for Future

Policies and programs looking to the advancement of the George Washington University as a university and as a student body will be carried on by next year's Student Council, judging from information gleaned in interviews with candidates for election to the Council.

In general, the candidates are strongly of the opinion that the Student Council should serve as a medium for the expression of student body sentiments. Suggestions for open forums and a special section in the Hatchet were made by several candidates as practical means of affording the students an opportunity to give their ideas to the Council. One candidate said "Such a forum should give expression to current student issues and serve as a means of making the Council truly representative."

That the Council should serve as a unifying force in the University, bringing students in all of the various schools into closer contact, was an important point stressed.

Many of the candidates felt a lack

Intramural Debate Finals Next Week

New Ruling Gives Possession of Cup to Club Winning Any Three Times

Tuesday, May 3, has been set as the date for the finals of the annual Intramural Debate Competition, which is being held under the auspices of Delta Sigma Rho, honorary speech arts fraternity.

The winners this time will be given a silver cup, which, by a new ruling of Delta Sigma Rho, if won any three times—not consecutively, becomes the possession of the winning organization. Results of the semi-finals among the sororities who have been debating the subject "Resolved, That married women in government positions whose husbands are gainfully employed should be replaced by qualified persons now unemployed," are as follows: Zeta Tau Alpha debating the affirmative, defeated Delta Zeta. Alpha Delta Pi, debating the negative, defeated Alpha Epsilon Phi, and Phi Sigma Sigma, who also debated the negative, defeated Kappa Delta, last year's winners.

Alpha Delta Pi, defending the affirmative, will debate Zeta Tau Alpha for the right of meeting Phi Sigma Sigma, who drew a bye in the finals.

In the semi-finals among the fraternities, debating the subject "Resolved, That the crime of kidnapping should be punishable by death," Acacia, debating the negative, defeated Phi Alpha, while Theta Upsilon Omega will meet Phi Sigma Kappa tonight for the right to debate Acacia in the finals on May 3.

Climaxing two months and more of campaigning and electioneering, elections to the Student Council for 1932-33 will take place Thursday and Friday in Lambie House.

Thirty-one candidates will have their names listed on the ballots for the fourteen places on the Council to which the ten divisions and schools of the University are entitled.

A forecast of results would be next to impossible. Many of the candidates have expressed their views in writing in communications to The Hatchet and this undoubtedly will influence a large number of voters. Personal contacts, however, have proved the deciding factor in previous elections, and no doubt this contest will run true to form.

Balloting will take place in Lambie House (Building Z), first floor, from 11:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. and from 4:30 to 7:30 p. m. on both Thursday and Friday of this week. Medical students will be required to cast their votes on Thursday only, from 10:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. in the Medical Building.

Every ballot, in order to be eligible to be counted, must bear a vote for the full quota of Council delegates allotted to the school or division in which the ballot is cast. Ballots bearing fewer names than there are representatives to be elected will be voided and will not be counted in the tally.

Results of the balloting will be announced from time to time as they are received at the Student Council dance which will be held in Corcoran Hall Friday evening. Final results will be made known immediately following a complete check and tally by the tellers.

Candidates for masters degrees will be required to exercise particular care in casting their ballots. Candidates for masters degrees in the School of Government, the School of Education, the Division of Library Science, the School of Engineering, the Law School, and the School of Medicine will cast their ballots in their respective schools and divisions. All others doing graduate work will vote for the representatives in Columbian College.

John K. Cartwright on "Religion and Culture," and one on "Religion and Patriotism" by the Rev. Dr. Ignatius Smith, O. P.

Miss Emma Thom, chairman of the social committee, has planned the entertainment.

The chapter will hold its regular meeting May 1, at 2:30 p. m. promptly. Bess Goodykoontz, assistant commissioner of the Office of Education, will speak and officers for 1932-33 will be elected. Hostesses for the tea which will follow are Bernadine Haycock, Dorothy Kemball and Ruth Jackson.

WASHINGTON, D. C., TUESDAY, APRIL 26, 1932.

IT APPEARS THAT WE'RE WAKING UP

In simple language, "it's election time."

Thursday and Friday upwards of 40 percent of the student body will direct its steps at one time or another to Lambie House to cast ballots for 31 candidates who seek election to 14 places on the 1932-33 Student Council. The estimate that approximately 2,000 voters will visit the polls is based upon results of the two previous elections. Forty percent is decidedly not a satisfactory proportion of the electorate to make known its wishes at election time, but this University numbers among its students many hundreds in whom the urge to acquire a degree obliterates even minor interest in extra-curricular activities.

It is encouraging to note that Council candidates, in their statements published in The Hatchet, generally favor more all-University contacts and affairs and the awakening of an University consciousness. That is one gratifying element which the next year or two probably will confirm and accentuate. It is an element which has been sophomorically termed "school spirit" for lo these dozens of years, and hundreds of editors have blindly appealed to quiescent student bodies for action and results, immediate and spectacular, without discovering and explaining a method for such accomplishment.

After a blind start and unfortunate misgovernment for a year, this institution's Student Council has "made its mark" in establishing the framework of a "student consciousness." Individually and collectively the Council has established its right to the confidence of the students. What the newly elected members are going to do must be left to conjecture, for only a minority of the students will register their opinions at the polls, and this minority in most cases will be motivated by friendship and not by principles in casting its important votes. Again in simple language, "we must trust to luck" Thursday and Friday, hoping that the 14 successful candidates will make no mis-step during their administration.

If the touch of "University consciousness" which we are witnessing at present is not a "flash in the pan" the future reveals a bright tinge just peeking over the horizon.

IT MERITS YOUR INTEREST

There are few times during the course of an academic year when an organization which is not strictly representative of the entire student body sponsors an event of interest that is of a class warranting universal backing and approval. Such an occasion, however, is Cue and Curtin's offering of "The Contrast" at Wardman Theater Friday and Saturday.

The production is the only spring dramatic event of which the University may boast. Its subject is timely, its theme lively, its value undeniable. "The Contrast," a play about the George Washington era, is worth your attention, your time, and your money.

NEWMANITES DO THEIR SHARE

An organization which is to be commended for its success in enhancing the name of the George Washington University, through the medium of the Federation of College Catholic Clubs, is the Colonial Newman Club, a representative group of about 200 of the more than 600 Catholic students registered in this institution.

One of the most active College Catholic Clubs in the East, the local club expects to reach new heights this week-end when it will be host to 200 delegates and visitors from more than a score of Universities, some as distant as Boston and Atlanta.

CHIPS

Hello, everybody, hello! Hello, I say, it's come. Just listen to the cockletoe or rumpin'. "Spring"—when a young man's fancy turns to things women have been thinking about all year. Which is an economic waste, eh, Professor Sutton? Well, anyway, when it goes from cokes to ice cream cones at Quigley's, the sap has begun to rise for sure. . . . Does that horseshoe pitching class over behind the Architectural School get any credit on the course, or does it just relieve the high mental tension? . . . The Sigma Chi baseball team has pledged Andy Gleeson in spite of the fact that he is a crooner par excellence. . . . Thanks, Symphonies, for the invitation even if it was for a "silver" ten. . . . Spring may be here, but Vivian's a month too soon with those two-tone shoes. . . . Barbara Wilson's been hauling Frisay Evans around a lot these days. Ho, hum—I wouldn't be surprised if the Pines catch a new pledge, would you, Kappa? . . . Student Council candidates have promised everything from plush carpets in the men's rest rooms to two-tone horns as a substitute for class bells. Rollo wonders if it might be possible to get a few paper towels at 5 o'clock—just on the side, of course. . . .

Grab an armful of Irish confetti and help fete the election victors at the Student Council brawl Friday. . . . This carnival idea harks old timers back to ye vaudeville days, when tomatoes were cheaper, everyone was not in love, but all the acts got a big offering. . . . Galls! Galls! Are you beautiful? Are you popular? Do you have smoker's teeth? Or don't you wear low neck dresses? Anyway, it's a cinch you've entered the Popularity Contest and plan to spear the wayward males for that car token alternate this week. . . . Rollo takes a pre-view of the field. "Eller"—slee eyed dynamite, Cecile Harrington—Angel Food; Vols Drury—"You dred big mans!", Ruth Molyneux—Publicity picked, Joe Atwell—Chi O sugar, Mal Sykes—Brown baby, Marion Ziegler—wife of Thor, Kitty Blake—Vive la "Viviana", Olivia Watkins—runner-up for Reed's position as champion all time talker. . . . Ole Hercules Slicker's roller skating classes are considered right nobby these days. Its members got quite a few knots, too. . . . Sweet smelling simple soap vendors, fooled or asphyxiated one of the Law School profs who hailed it as another sign of Spring. . . . May 8 has been set as the date of issue for the "Cherry Tree of Cherry Trees," a Schaumb-Bain production with the Bicentennial motif. . . . Dille steals Burnham's racket by appearing in a new russet brown riding habit. We didn't see the horse because Bill Helvestine was with her. . . . Since the D.A.R. pages were so disappointed last year with our "pseudo college men," as a local press put it, they sort of got that hands-off policy, with the result that the annual ball looked like an old maid's convention with every man at a premium. Rollo left early. . . . The Troubadour's party at the Club Michel had somewhat of the same effect as the show this year—a sort of flat taste, don't you know. . . . Dr. Donaldson's class in I.E.R. sends him love and kisses for that exam with one day's notice. "United they fell!" . . . From the leftovers of the Pi Delt journalistic convention we gather what happened to the Green Dragons—they merged with Pi Delt. . . . The absence of water boy Croissant in the Faculty-O.D.K. game might be settled by a contest, the position going to the prof who gives the easiest final this year. . . . Talking about contests—Jenner's $75 mystery contest should prove quite attractive to our unemployed. . . . Dramaticks—Due and Coitin gives colonial performance. Evidently, "The play's the thing to prick the conscience of old George."

What, has Rollo no fans, or is there a depression in ideas as well as in pocketbooks? Anyway, add your suggestions and subtlety to our growing collection for our All Fans Column. Address it now to Rollo, in care of The Hatchet. . . . Wishing you a little cheer and pleasant dreams. Au revoir. DICK ROLLO.

Speaker's Congress Debates Examination

Bertha Kauffman and Van Demark Discuss Fairness of Exams

"Resolved that final examinations are unfair to the undergraduate student," was the question before members of the Speaker's Congress at their last meeting, Monday, April 18. Bertha Kauffman presented the affirmative side and Grant Van Demark the negative. Bertha Kauffman maintained that final examinations cause cheating, cheating, and class-cutting, and are not a fair test of the student's knowledge. Grant Van Demark's main points were that any system of daily recitation and weekly examinations would cause the abolition of extra-curricular activities, and that the system of final examinations enables the student to receive and retain the essentials of the course.

An open forum followed the prepared speeches, after which a vote was taken. By a bare majority the Congress agreed that final examinations are unfair to the undergraduate student and should be replaced by weekly quizzes and a term paper.

The new members admitted were Jane Rhoades and Charles Compton. On May 2, the Speaker's Congress will debate a very interesting subject, "Divorce Laws in the United States should be abolished." Gilbert W. Linville will uphold the negative, while John Barbers will take the affirmative side.

The speakers invited all those interested to attend.

Fine Arts Students Addressed by Kahn

Speaks on Value of Understanding Classics at Banquet Thursday

Talking on the necessity of studying classic art in order to be able to interpret modern architecture, Ely Jacques Kahn addressed the students in the Fine Arts division and their guests at a banquet at the Mayflower Hotel on Thursday night, April 21.

Mr. Kahn, who is the director of the Beaux Arts Institute of Design, compared the relation of the instructor to the student in the American university with that in the universities in Europe. He made several very interesting comments regarding the possibilities of architecture in the future.

Professor Delos Smith, of the Fine Arts Division, acted as toastmaster and introduced the speakers of the evening: Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, Professor Norris I. Crandall, Mr. Fred V. Murphy, professor of architecture at Catholic University, and Mr. Kahn, guest of honor.

International Students' Club Will Give Dance Saturday

Letters to Editor

The editor is in possession of a letter addressed to him by a student who, unfortunately, chooses to remain anonymous, possibly because he prefers to add what approaches insult to the wholesome portion of his letter. Since there is merit in his contention that a large number of students now enrolled in this University will be seriously affected by a decrease in Government salaries, this anonymous correspondent is invited to communicate with the editor if he wishes to present facts that will bear out his ideas. Any information will of course be treated confidentially if desired. Otherwise there appears no basis for a further treatment of the subject in either the news or editorial columns.

Gliders Resume Activities

At Congressional Airport

The group of University students who were the first G. W. men to receive Department of Commerce Gliding Licenses are again flying at the Congressional Airport.

An invitation to participate in this sport is extended to men and women registered in the University. Because most people are not positive that gliding will appeal to them, a special introductory course costing $10 is being given. The student is taught to taxi the ship along the ground until he has become familiar with the controls. Then he is allowed to "take off," just skimming through the air a few feet above the field.

Students interested in gliding may consult Professor A. F. Johnson in the School of Engineering or Dr. Glenn Elliott, Monmouth Hotel.

Summer Program Bulletins Available

Summer Sessions Will Continue from June 20 to August 20

A preliminary announcement of the George Washington University Summer Bulletin is available at the Registrar's office for the benefit of all students. Those wishing to attend the summer sessions may take advantage of this opportunity to avoid the usual registration rush. Pre-registration will be sometime in May, according to Professor Robert Whitney Bolwell.

This bulletin will contain a complete schedule of the summer program; information concerning fees and expenses, and faculty lists. Copies will be sent upon request to the Registrar's office.

The Summer Sessions will begin June 20 when the nine weeks' course is opened and will last until August 20. The six weeks' course will open July 5 and will last until August 13.

Courses will be offered in the Junior College, Columbian College, Graduate School, Law School, School of Education, School of Government, Division of Library Science, Division of Fine Arts, and the Division of University and Extension Students. Students in the School of Engineering will have the opportunity to take many of their elective and required courses in the Junior College and Columbian College curricula.

By JOHN EVERETT

Closer and more exciting games marked the second round of the Interfraternity baseball series played last Sunday before comparatively large collections of rabid rooters. Sigma Nu and Phi Sigma Kappa, having won both of their games to date, are leading their respective leagues in the chase for the championship.

The most noteworthy upset of the day was registered by the Sigma Mu Sigma cellular champions, who marred the clean slate of the Kappa Sigs by handing them a 7-7 tie. The Delta baseballers had little trouble subduing the heretofore undefeated T. U. O.'s by the large score of 16-6. Sigma Chi came back in their second game to lick the Theta Deltas, 8-6, while the Phi Sigs triumphed over the Acacians 10-5. S. P. E. profited by a forfeit over Kappa Alpha, who were unable to place nine men on the field at game time. Sigma Alpha Epsilon lost to Sigma Nu, 10-3.

The comeback staged by Sigma Mu Sigma in their tilt with Kappa Sig staged the most unexpected exhibit and should be disconcerting to the Sig Mus future opponents on the diamond. Hoffman, lanky left-hander of the S. M. S., baffled the Kappa Sigs from the beginning with his tricky delivery and clever control. S. M. S. scored 3 runs in the opening frame before the surprised 19 Streeters could get their bearings. After having a 6 to 3 lead in the first half of the sixth inning, the Sigma Mu defenses weakened enough to allow the Kappa Sigs to push four markers over the plate for a 7-6 lead. Sigma Mu garnered a lone tally off Elliott's slants in the final frame to tie the score.

The score by innings:
K. S. 0 0 0 1 2 4 0-7
Batteries: S. M. S. (Hoffman and Edwards); K. S. (Elliott and Baldwin).
The Delt diamonders, behind the steady hurling of Bill Pates, turned away every T. U. O. threat in an easy game. From the first inning, when the K-Streeters accounted for 5 runs, the final verdict was never in doubt. Clever fielding by Nig McCarver, Delt left fielder, and the slugging Finis Parrish were instrumental in the T. U. O. downfall. "Sonny" Fenlon and Gordon Delt helped the Delt cause in the third inning by pounding out home runs. Pates struck out nine batters during the seven innings and had the T. U. O.'s baffled in all but the fourth frame when he was touched for 4 hits and 3 runs.

The score by innings:
T. U. O. 1 0 0 3 1 0 1-6
D. T. D. 5 0 0 4 2 3 1-16
Batteries: T. U. O. (Taylor and Hobbes); D. T. D. (Pates and Keller).
Steady pitching by both Andy Gleeson and Bill Sterrett made the Sigma Chi-Theta Delt game a close one. The Theta Deltas got off to a three run lead in the first frame but the Sigma Chis came back in the third to score three markers and tie the score. Klinekauf, Farnoff and Johnson got on base and all three scored on hits by Gleeson and Spencer. Three more runs were made in the fourth, largely on errors by the Theta Deltas. Gleeson allowed 2 runs in the fourth and a lone tally in the next inning to give Theta Delta Chi their quota for the day. Gleeson not only struck out nine men but also led both teams at bat with three hits. Rote and Backus, with two hits apiece were second high.

The score by innings:
S. X. 0 0 3 0 1 1-5
T. D. X. 0 0 0 2 1 0 0-6
Batteries: S. X. (Gleeson and Klinekauf); T. D. X. (Sterrett and Backus).
The Sigma Nu sluggers proved too much for S. A. E. and displayed a well-balanced outfit in downing their traditional rivals for the lead of League B. Numerous errors paved the way for a three run lead, when the winners scored 2 runs in the second and one marker in the third inning on Sherwood's circuit clout. S. A. E. came back strongly in their half of the third to tie the score. After Weaver's wild throw of Sheiry's bunt, "Bull" Durham singled and Sheiry scored when Carlin threw away Burgess' easy grounder. Hale popped to Bearce who dropped it and Durham scored. A nifty double steal by Burgess and Hale, with Burgess crossing the plate, ended S. A. E.'s scoring for the day. Although they had several chances to score in the fourth and fifth innings, Sigma Nu was unable to register until the sixth when they accounted for three tallies. This lead was lengthened when they pushed four more runs across in the final frame.

The score by innings:
S. N. 0 2 1 0 0 3 4-10
S. A. E. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-3
Batteries: S. N. (Crouch and Weaver); S. A. E. (Durham and Sheiry).

St. John's College Loses Easy Match To Colonial Netmen

Hatchetites Vanquish Johnnies at Every Point to Win First Match, 9-0

Meeting a team which was inferior at every point the Hatchetite netmen vanquished St. John's of Annapolis in all of the nine matches played at the Columbia Country Club last Wednesday, April 20. The team representing George Washington had no problem in conquering the Annapolis men who apparently had little experience in the technique of court work.

Goldsmith playing the number one position for George Washington did not give his opponent, Lafferty, a single game. Robinson, Gable, and Edwards lost one game each; and in the doubles the number one team comprising Edwards and Goldsmith allowed Lafferty and Reed only two games.

Next Friday the G. W.-ites will have as their guests the netmen of Hampden-Sidney. This match will doubtless be played at the Columbia Club also.

The temporary lineup of the squad is given below. This is not at all permanent, and may be changed from time to time by challenge matches. Men on the squad may challenge the man just ahead of them on the list, and men not listed on the squad may challenge the number seven or eight positions.

The rating follows:
1. Goldsmith. 5. Robinson.
2. Edwards. 6. L. Sherfy.
3. Gable. 7. R. Sherfy.
4. Lee. 8. D. Bennett.

The results of the St. John's match: Singles—Goldsmith defeated Lafferty 6-0, 6-0; Edwards defeated Reed 6-1, 6-0; Gable defeated White 6-0, 6-1; Lee defeated Woodman 6-3, 6-0; Robinson defeated Hilegas 6-0, 6-1; and L. Sherfy defeated Hofmeister 6-2, 6-3. Doubles—Edwards and Goldsmith defeated Lafferty and Reed 6-2, 6-0; R. Sherfy and L. Sherfy defeated Woodman and White 6-3, 6-4; Robinson and Gable defeated Hilegas and Hofmeister 6-2, 6-1.

First Round of Intramural Golf Tourney in Progress

The first round of the intramural golf tournament is nearly completed, and with good weather it is expected that the matches will be played off hurriedly.

Inter-Team Shooting Closes Rifle Season

Virginia Sheffield's Sharpshooters Score Ten-Point Victory

The women's rifle team closed their shooting season with an inter-team match, after which refreshments were served to members of the varsity team and prospective members of next year's team.

One team was lead by this year's captain, Virginia Sheffield, and was called the "Chefs," while the other team was lead by the newly elected captain for next year, Evelyn Kerr, and was called the "Cura."

The "Chefs" who were victorious, scored 487 points, while the "Cura" totaled 477 points. The high five scores on the winning team were as follows:

Naomi Myers	99
Lois Corea	98
Virginia Sheffield	98
Margaret Claxton	96
Marguerite Thomas	96

Richmond Linksmen Will Meet Colonials At Manor Golf Club

Varsity to Drive for First Victory Friday; Scheduled to Play Penn University Saturday

The Colonial varsity golfers will be driving for their first victory of the season on Friday, when they meet University of Richmond Linksmen on the Manor Club course, at 1:30 p. m.

A match has also been scheduled here with the University of Pennsylvania for the following day, April 30, though no playing site has been obtained as yet.

Having suffered defeat in their two previous matches, the Buff and Blue par seekers will be doubly anxious to bring home victory over these rivals. The team has undergone one change in its lineup since the encounter with William and Mary, Kendrick, former alternate, having risen to the No. 4 position by defeating Thuney twice in challenge matches. The team, as it now stands, is composed of Atherton, Coleman, Suter, and Kendrick, ranking in the order named, and Thuney, alternate.

Columbian College Wins Third Game for Lead in Intramurals

Engineers Beat Junior College 5-1 in Initial Start But Lose to Pharmacy 11-6 in Upset; Pre-Med and Pharmacy Lose

By JOHN BUSICK

Favored by the appearance of "Old Sol" throughout the week, the Intramural baseball league finished its second round of play with the Columbian College registering a 30-0 plastering to the Pharmacy School on Monday, the Engineers turning in a 5-1 victory over the Junior College, the former's initial appearance on Tuesday, the Columbians coming back on Friday to trim the Pre-Meds 8-2 for their second victory of the week, and on Saturday the Pharmacists exhibiting a complete reversal of form by defeating the Engineers 11-6, in the biggest upset to date.

Opening for the Pharmacists, Walters grounded out but Nathanson was safe when Miltenberg dropped his long fly. Hoffberg doubled to left scoring Nathanson and scored a minute later when Sniegosky hit for two bases to the same territory.

Bray blanked the Engineers in the second, but the Pharmacists took the lead with two more runs in their half. After Read fanned, Clements was safe on an overthrow to first; Koutsoukas then doubled down the left field foul line scoring Clements. Bray took a hand in the slugging himself at this point with a two bagger to left center that scored Koutsoukas.

The fourth round saw the Engineers score three runs and recover their advantage. With two on base Baldwin tripled to left center and scored on Bovey's timely line single, accounting for the Engineers' markers.

However, in their half of the round, the Pharmacists fell on Lynch and his successor, Hetzel, for six runs. Successive singles by Walters and Hoffberg with a triple by Nathanson and Chamberlain's sacrifice sandwiched in, drove in three runs. Three more came in when Sniegosky hit for a base, Read tripled, scoring Sniegosky, and Bray's hit following Clements' walk, scored Clements and Read.

Tuesday's game between the Junior College and the Engineers, which the latter won 5-1, produced the best baseball of the series to date. Hetzel, who twirled for the winners, was in fine form, allowing only three hits and striking out ten of the opposition. Anstine and Dike, Junior pitchers, were touched for ten bingles, but managed to keep them fairly well scattered throughout.

Tommy Baldwin, stellar Engineer second sacker, began the afternoon's proceedings with a hit to deep left center that was good for a home run. Anstine walked Bovey and Hetzel singled, but the next three batters fanned viciously and the rally was checked. Abbey duplicated Baldwin's first round performance with a round tripper in the fifth for another of the winner's tallies and their last marker came in the final round on Claffin's hit to center and successive passes to Miltenberger, Baldwin, and Bovey.

Score by innings:
Engineers 1 0 0 2 1 0 1-5
Monday's game with the Pharmacists which the Columbians won 30-0 was a nightmare for the future druggists as well as the scorekeeper. Zahn got a homer and a single, Jay Payne five hits, Fenlon four, Mulvey three, and Blackstone and Caruso two each. In fact the Columbians enjoyed a field day behind the three hit pitching of Hale "Hoss" Daniels, who has been well nigh invincible to date.

The Pre-Meds were able to tap Daniels a little more freely on Friday, but he tightened whenever men were on base to prevent any sustained rallies. The Columbian College sluggers began on Jeweler with a bombardment in the first that netted five runs and though checked for three rounds, reached him for a trio of scores in the fifth.

It was not until the sixth that the Pre-Meds broke into the run column when they tallied once and in the following round they reached Daniels for their second marker.

Columbian 3 0 0 0 3 0 9-6

Student Council Candidates Declare Platforms For Coming Election

To the Students of Columbian College:

As a candidate for the Student Council, representing Columbian College, there are several policies that I believe should be forwarded. There are specific policies that, should I be elected, I would sponsor, in addition to the larger and more general movements for the betterment of the Council.

The Social Calendar system that was inaugurated this year by the Council has been very successful. But I believe that this plan would be greatly improved and more suitable if more than one social function were allowed in one evening. George Washington has so many organizations that enough desirable and possible dates are not available under this plan for the demands of these organizations.

Because of the lack of organization on the George Washington campus, an all-University Carnival or some similar social function including all organizations, should be sponsored by the Student Council as representative of the entire student body, each year. This function would tend to promote much needed University spirit and co-operation, bringing both students and faculty in closer contact.

The Council should continue to work to attain the goal of a strong student governing body, toward which it has made great progress in the past year. The Student Council should reflect the will of the student body and act as intermediary between students and faculty.

RUTH WARREN.

To the Students of Columbian College:

Despite the efforts of the Student Council during the past year, it is still a government by a few individuals—individuals competent and conscientious but nevertheless individuals. The average student on the campus knows little about the Student Council and cares less; to him the Council is a vague sort of oligarchy which legislates on still vaguer questions. Such a situation can be met only by making the student body, Student Council conscious, and by making student opinion on current issues the working basis of the Council.

An open forum sponsored by the Council at least once a year would seem to solve the difficulty. Such a forum if given enough publicity and encouragement has many latent possibilities: it could and should be a medium through which the interested part of the student body would be unified, thus facilitating the expression of student feeling and the presentation in a formal way of petitions to the Council; the natural leaders in such a forum would assume the role of candidates for the following year's Student Council, thus eliminating the present system of indefinite campaigning and the possibility of blindfold selections.

Because I feel that this is the primary need of the Student Council at the present time, my platform is one concerned fundamentally with facilitating and encouraging your means of expression. For only thus can a representative from Columbian College be vested with the power of the governed.

HELEN M. SWICK.

To the Students of Junior College:

Due to the fact that the Junior College is a younger group, there is a tendency to disregard their suggestions in favor of those of the older students. But since our group is the largest of any undergraduate group, our suggestions and our decisions should be proportionately important in the Council.

The Student Council's role in any University is an important one. It is the only agency to which students may send suggestions, and the only governing unit of the student body. This is important to each one of us, and therefore we should all come to the polls and cast our votes for those who, to the best of our knowledge, will bring the Student Council up to the position that it should hold in campus life.

This organization has been steadily gaining prominence and each one of us owes it to himself and to the University to elect persons who will further augment its value. The Student Council as a student governing agency, working in cooperation with the administration, should have as its aim the welfare of the student body.

The above is my conception of what a Student Council should mean. On the basis of this I am asking support as a candidate for the office of Junior College representative on the Student Council, and, if I am elected, I shall endeavor (1) To bring to the attention of the Council all suggestions of my constituents, (2) If any issue arises, to assist in its just settlement.

MARTHA SUTTON.

To the Students of the Junior College:

It is no longer necessary for the new student coming to George Washington University to feel that opportunity is lacking to him to take advantage of the heritage which may be offered at any other University in the country. That heritage is what may be called College Consciousness. At the present time at George Washington University a medium is in existence which will provide the new student with an opportunity of exerting an immediate influence in student life.

It goes without saying that the most logical agency for accomplishing this purpose is a Student Council composed of representatives from each college in the University who, in the conduct of their duties, will represent a true reflection of the sentiments of the student body in their particular college. Ultimately, therefore, the students in the University constitute, severally and as a group, the responsible element in the conduct of student affairs.

The Student Council does not exist for itself. It was conceived for the purpose of administering to a vital need of the students, a direct representation in matters in which they, naturally, desire to participate. It is recognized, then, that the organization exists for the benefit of the student body at large.

Elections for members of the Student Council are to be held April 28 and 29 in order to provide an opportunity for the election of representatives to that body. I should consider it a privilege and an honor to be designated by my fellow students in Junior College to serve their interests in the Student Council.

MABEL E. MONEY.

To the Students of Columbian College:

The Student Council at George Washington University is a governing body of the students of the University, prescribing rules for their guidance. It is a group of students chosen by their colleagues to represent them in matters affecting the student body and to work for the benefit of all rather than of any group or combination. It establishes the contact so necessary for cooperation between the students and the administration. It is the source to which both the students and the faculty look for improvements in University life.

The Student Council has proved its worth by foreseeing the needs of the students and effecting changes in the University program. Ideas submitted by students or faculty for such improvements have been considered and acted upon immediately for the benefit of the University as a whole. The action of the Student Council appears to have met the approval of the students and I favor a continuance of the same policies. I believe that it is wise to maintain the system instituted last year of voting by colleges for representatives to the Student Council. It is desirable to continue the social calendar provided that the Student Council—not the organization holding the social function—possess the power to grant permission for holding more than one function at the same time. In connection with the social calendar, chaperonage for all University functions would be more satisfactorily directed by the Student Council than by the Director of Women's Personnel Guidance, as it is at the present time.

The Student Council has brought the student body and the administration into closer contact through the organization of the University Band, in which all are interested. The Band has popularized University songs and brought a certain publicity which might not have been attained as quickly by other means.

The members of the Student Council, elected by the student body on the basis of their qualifications for leadership, their spirit of cooperation with the administration for the mutual benefit of both the student body and the administration, their willingness to carry out the desires of the students as presented to them, and their ability to plan successfully for the future of the student body, are in a large measure responsible for harmonious relations between students and faculty during the school year.

I have presented to you my conception of an ideal Student Council for George Washington University. In asking you to support me as a candidate for election to the Student Council, I promise to uphold these ideals to the best of my ability.

DOROTHY LOUISE NIESS.

To the Students of the Division of Fine Arts:

To have the campus life that is needed at the University, the different schools must center their activities under one group. That is, instead of having individual social life, all schools should get together more. The Student Council is the medium for this.

In the school of Fine Arts, there are different activities, but they do not go beyond their own building. My intention would be not only to carry on the work of last year's representative, but to bring my school, Fine Arts, as well as all others into the life of the University.

LOREN MURRAY.

To the Students of the Division of Library Science:

In announcing my candidacy as a representative to the Student Council from the Division of Library Science, I should like to give my ideas of what a Student Council should be in a University like George Washington. We of the present Council have endeavored during the past year to strengthen its position on the campus and to fulfill our obligations to our supporters.

The Student Council should be that part of the student body which best represents its particular group. Each student should be elected from his own group, by his own group in order to best represent them. He is the one to whom the students should look for protection of their interests and every member of his school should feel free to bring suggestions or inquiries to him at any time.

The Student Council is the intermediary between the administration and the Student body, ready at all times to cooperate with both for the good of the University.

The Student Council has acquitted itself creditably during the past year in drawing up a new and workable constitution, establishing a point system, and organizing the University Band. The much-questioned Social Calendar has proved its efficiency this year and should be continued with the cooperation of the student body.

The Carnival is another thing which is sponsored entirely by the Council and will help greatly in unifying the University.

I sponsor a continuation of the present policies of the Student Council, with a greater effort to learn the needs of the student body and act accordingly and I promise that, if I am elected, I will endeavor to carry on the duties of the Council as they shall seem to best benefit the University.

KATHLEEN WATKINS.

To the Students of the Junior College:

As a candidate for the Student Council in the coming elections, I advocate certain continuations, additions, and changes in the present Council activities.

First, in order to act with open and whole-hearted cooperation with the administration and with the student body, the Council should meet at frequent and regular intervals. I am in favor of weekly meetings and publications of minutes of these meetings in The University Hatchet, or publications of synopses thereof and the placing of the full minutes on file in the library.

Secondly, there arises the question of the expense of the University year book "The Cherry Tree." To make it a publication which will grow with the University, and be worthy of symbolizing the achievements of the upper classes, I propose compulsory Senior subscriptions to this manual to provide funds for the creation of a book which will serve as a monument for the graduating classes.

The third point under consideration is the question of the Student Calendar. I stand for the continued activity of the Calendar toward the elimination of competition with one exception. Any cases where organizations find themselves in conflict over the same date for functions, the settlement of the difficulty should be left entirely in the hands of the Council and not between the organizations concerned.

Fourth: Matters which concern the entire student body should be presented to it for its approval before decision is made. Such matters should not be left completely in the hands of the Student Council.

In advocating these above stated measures, I should also, if elected, take particular care in considering the desires of the school which I wish to represent and should do all in my power to aid in the accomplishment of its interests through the medium of the Student Council.

BETTY COON.

To the Students of the Junior College:

The present Student Council has a number of accomplishments to its credit. The University Band is one of its outstanding achievements and the All-University Carnival, which the Council is promoting, promises to be highly successful.

As a candidate for Student Council from the Junior College, I endorse the present progressive policy of the Council and advocate the following:

1. Modification of the election laws by eliminating the requirement that each candidate sign an affidavit stating that during the following year he will be enrolled in the school he desires to represent. Under the present law about one-half of the students in the Junior College (all of the regular sophomore class) are ineligible to become candidates. Under the present law no regular student now enrolled in the Junior College will be eligible to become a candidate in next year's election! While it is realized that this measure was adopted in order to avoid having a council member represent a school when he is no longer enrolled in that school, it is nevertheless believed that this stipulation should be changed to read: "At the time of election each candidate must be enrolled in the school he seeks to represent." This seems to me to be the most logical solution—it is certainly the lesser of two evils.

2. Carrying out of the Point System. This system was adopted by the Council in order to limit and distribute extra-curricula activities of students and I believe it should be carried out.

3. Development of a major spring sport at G. W. This may not be directly in line with Student Council activities but I believe G. W. should have some major spring sport, preferably lacrosse. I believe the students would support a lacrosse team. The attendance at football games last fall was very good and the gym was filled to capacity for every basketball game. Lacrosse is an interesting game to witness and lacrosse at G. W. would no doubt prove popular and profitable.

I earnestly solicit your support in the coming elections and, if elected, pledge myself to voicing the best interests of the Junior College.

JAMES W. HALEY.

To the Students of the Junior College:

The interest shown by the students of the Junior College in the coming Student Council elections is indicative of little interest or knowledge of the Student Council as a school organization. This is not encouraging to those who desire that the representatives of the Junior College to the Student Council should be real representatives and not merely elected by a few voters from the largest division of the University. Therefore, it should be improved by a Student Council that is sensible to student opinion and moulds its action accordingly.

The Student Council, a comparatively recent school organization, should be better known to the new students in the Junior College. Its control of undergraduate activity should be subject to the praise and criticism of the Student body. This can be accomplished only through the cooperation of The Hatchet and the Student Council. While The Hatchet has been of great value in arousing interest in the coming election, its work should not stop there. It is necessary to maintain this interest throughout the entire school year.

A section of The Hatchet should be devoted to the actions and deliberations of the Student Council. The interest aroused by such regular publicity could not fail to be beneficial to the Student Council as an active and representative student organization.

As a night school student I am particularly interested in the advantages enjoyed by the student attending the evening classes. The day and evening students have separate problems that must be solved separately to satisfy both.

The Student Council should study the conditions of the evening student and should make efforts to include them in the various school activities to a greater extent than heretofore. Such action would promote the school spirit of both day and evening students.

The athletic program of the last few years has been a success. This should be continued. The Student Council should also endeavor to further arouse the lagging school spirit at all athletic events.

Such proposals as I have endorsed above are not merely my own personal opinions but have also been supported by other members of the Junior College.

JAMES P. HUSS.

To the Students of the Division of Fine Arts:

The Division of Fine Arts is an integral part of the University, comprising one of the hardest-working groups in the school. Why, then, are so few other students aware of its existence? The fault lies with the Fine Art students themselves. Realizing that they are hard-pressed for time, I still maintain that they could patronize University functions and take part in those activities in which their various talents would be appreciated.

The classrooms in Building E and S are a disgrace to the University, and would certainly be unimpressive to a prospective student. Here again the fault lies with the architects and graphic artists who have allowed themselves to become accustomed to working amidst a confusion of materials which could so easily be kept in order. A little cooperation between students and janitors would make these rooms more inspirational to artistic endeavor.

I believe the Fine Art students are in closer touch with their professors than any other group. This condition necessitates full understanding between them. Problems that arise need not be whispered among students or be deplored by professors if each realized fully the position of the other.

Taking part in University life is, of course, up to the students themselves; the condition of the classrooms can be easily remedied if there is someone to instruct the janitors and to help the students cooperate; greater understanding between students and faculty can be realized if there is a mediating to present the problems of one and to receive suggestions of the other.

Having been nominated to the Student Council, I shall pledge myself to carry out the ministrations of the office as I see them in an unprejudiced manner and to the best of my ability if the Division of Fine Arts sees fit to elect me as its representative.

"List for College Libraries"

Names Dean Henning's Book

"Representative French Lyrics," by Dr. George Neely Henning, head of the Romance Languages Department of the University, is one of the books selected for "List of Books for College Libraries," by Charles B. Shaw, compiled for the Advisory Group of College Libraries of the Carnegie Corporation, and published by the American Library Association. The list, selected with the aid of some 200 specialists in different fields, comprises a minimum book collection for a four-year liberal arts college library.

"Representative French Lyrics," was also chosen for Hester's "Books for Junior Colleges," issued by the same publisher. As in the Shaw list, titles in the Hester list are grouped according to subject and represent those books which were considered absolutely essential to supplement instruction in the courses offered. This book was further distinguished by being recommended for first purchase.

Dr. Henning is on sabbatical leave this year, during which he is studying in Paris.

She prefers

A PIPE (For you)

HER name is Ruth. She's a popular co-ed on a famous campus. Yes, she'll have a cigarette, thank you (and smoke it very prettily). But for you she likes a pipe.

That's one smoke that's still a man's smoke. (And that's why she likes to see YOU smoke a pipe.)

There's something companionable about a pipe. Friendly, cool, mellow... it clears your mind, puts a keen edge on your thinking.

And you sound the depths of true smoking satisfaction when you fill up its bowl with Edgeworth.

There, men, is a REAL smoke. Choice mellow burleys, cut especially for pipes—blended for the man who knows his fine tobaccos. It's cool, dry, satisfying—and you'll find it first in sales, first choice of smokers. In 42 out of 54 leading colleges.

We'd like nothing better than to drop in tonight and toss our own private tin across your study table. But since that can't be, just remember that you can get Edgeworth at your dealer's—or send for free sample if you wish. Address Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va.

HORN IN ON THIS $25,000!

464 CASH PRIZES THIS MONTH—2 FIRST PRIZES OF $500 EACH

SEE those "blurbs" coming out of the men's mouths? Can you write one? We're putting up $25,000 in cash for those who can. Get your pencil out—now!

Here's the idea. In a field of 176 competing brands, Colgate's and Palmolive are the two outstanding leaders. They have won an overwhelming preference over all other shaving creams.

We know that Palmolive users swear there's nothing as good as Palmolive. And Colgate shavers claim that Colgate's beats 'em all in a walk.

What we want is your opinion. Do you side with Jim or his Dad in the big Palmolive vs. Colgate's argument? Are you a Colgate fan or a Palmolive booster. Let's hear from you!

In ONE of the empty "blurb" spaces, or on a separate sheet of paper, just say your say. In your own words, write your boost for Colgate's—or for Palmolive—not both. 464 cash prizes each month for the best "blurbs" sent to us!

Here's where you take your shot at some of that $25,000

Jim wants you Palmolive users to back him up. His Dad wants every Colgate shaver's help. If you haven't tried either of these famous shaving creams, rust now and get into this $25,000 argument.

CONTEST RULES

MAIL your "blurb" with name and address to Contest Editors, Dept. CN-81, P. O. Box 1133, Chicago, Illinois.

The prize money (totaling $25,000) is divided into six sets of monthly prizes (each set totaling $4200). At the end of each month prizes are awarded (see list at right) for the best "blurbs" received during that month, as follows:

Feb. 29, $4200 Mar. 31, $4200
April 30, $4200 May 31, $4200
June 30, $4200 July 31, $4200
(Cheapest closes July 31, 1932)

Contest is open only to residents of the United States and Canada. Employees of the manufacturers and their families are not eligible to compete.

In event of a tie, each tying contestant will be awarded full amount of the prize tied for. Decision of the judges shall be final. All contributions shall become the property of the manufacturers, to be used in any way desired.

Some hints to help you win

Here are some facts about the world's two largest selling shaving creams—Colgate's and Palmolive. Here are some of the reasons why men prefer these famous shaving creams.

PALMOLIVE

1. Multiples itself in under 200 times.
2. Softens the beard in one minute.
3. Moisturizes in creamy lather for 30 minutes.

4. Fine clear-sheen due to olive oil content.

COLGATE'S

1. Breaks up oil film that covers each hair.
2. Small bubbles get down to the base of the beard, hold water against each hair at shaven end and keep it moist when the razor works.

3. Gives a close, skin-like shave due to small bubble action.
4. Gives a lasting, 24-hour shave.

Here are the prizes for each month—464 in all!

Vaudeville Tryouts Dated for May 2, 3

"Cleopatra and the Devil,"
"Curfew," 20 Others in Carnival Entries

Tryouts for acts in the vaudeville, a featured attraction of the University Carnival May 6 and 7, are to be held Monday and Tuesday, May 2 and 3, in Corcoran Hall 10 at 9 p. m.

Each organization entered for a skit or act must appear before a committee appointed by the Council to supervise and review the presentation of the acts. The committee will take this opportunity to assign the various groups the appropriate billing position or place on the program. Each of the entrants will be notified in advance on which night they must be present to have their efforts sanctioned by the judges.

Such billings as "Cleopatra and the Devil," and "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight," head the interesting program, in which about 20 organizations have already joined.

Present plans call for an open air theatre, to be erected on the tennis court, where two performances will be given each night, with a different program billed for each performance. No act will be repeated, with the possible exception of the two or three greatest successes, because of the large number of groups participating.

Prizes will be awarded for the best performances, as was previously announced, and competition has been keen in the choice of skits.

Nine Women Enter Popularity Contest for Carnival Queen

Jack Royce; Mal Sykes, who will be helped on her way along the road to fame by Louise Wright, and Vola Drury, trusting her campaign to the wiles of Jerry Slicker.

Coupon books will be released today from ten till noon at carnival headquarters in the basement of Building Q. The books will consist of 50 blanks, each blank representing a minimum of ten votes. Each blank will be sold for not less than ten cents. Any subscriber may advance any sum desired above the ten-cent minimum, which sum will be entered in the blank with his name, the filled blank to become the receipt of the subscriber.

A bonus of 200 votes will be given to the first contestant who turns in 1,000 votes; 400 to the first contestant submitting the second 1,000 sold, and so on, doubling with each thousand votes. Second and third awards will be one-half the number of bonus votes in each case; thus the second person to turn in 1,000 votes will receive a bonus of 100 votes, and the third filer of the initial 1,000 a bonus of 50 votes, and so on through the entire range of the contest.

Announcement and coronation of the "Queen of the Carnival" will be the high light of the last night of the All-University affair, Saturday, May 7.

Entrants in Popularity Contest

Four Days Remain to Enter Carnival; Highlights Vie for Eminent Positions

April 29 is Final Date for Organizations to Select Booths in University Yard

Numerous Additions Include Musical Side Show and Peanut Vendors

Friday, April 29, has been set as the dead line for receiving entries for the first University Carnival, leaving but four days' time for the several organizations not yet listed to be in on the plans for this gala event.

Several groups, while willing to participate, have apparently experienced difficulty in digging up ideas for a booth. If your group is in this class, you should consult a member of the Council committee at once, at headquarters in the basement of Building Q. An outside concessioner has offered to rent complete equipment for booths, and has a large assortment from which to choose. Any organization may arrange to take care of its needs in this manner.

Attention should be called to the fact that entrants are allotted locations as applications are made, and choice locations are filling up quickly.

Several social groups which have not yet expressed a desire to enter include Kappa Sigma, Sigma Mu Sigma, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Phi Mu.

Other organizations who have signified their intentions of entering a booth in the carnival are Sigma Chi, Acacia, Phi Sigma Kappa, Delta Tau Delta, and the Colonial Campus Club. The nature of their booths has not been divulged either because of lack of plans or because they wish to keep them secret.

Plans for the faculty-student clash are in the hands of Prof. Benjamin Cruickshank for the faculty, and Henry Herzog representing O. D. K. Thus far it is expected that in addition to the above-named faculty members, the University will be represented by Coaches Pixlee, Farrington, Sexton, Professors Bolwell, Bement, West, Tillem, Mason, and a number of others who wish to be known as "dark horses" until the actual fray takes place.

Omicron Delta Kappa expects a formidable array of talent from among its active and alumni members. Line-ups of both teams will be announced in a later edition of The Hatchet with last-minute details of what promises to be of real interest.
